

ABOUT THE SPEAKERS

Steven Andrew Light, Ph.D., is a Professor of Political Science at the University of North Dakota College of Business and Public Administration. Kathryn R.L. Rand, J.D., is Dean and Floyd B. Sperry Professor at the University of North Dakota School of Law. Rand and Light are widely recognized as among the top experts on Indian gaming in the United States. They are co-directors of the Institute for the Study of Tribal Gaming Law and Policy, which they founded in 2002 as the first academic institute in the U.S. devoted to the study of Indian gaming. They have published over 45 articles and three books on Indian gaming: : Indian Gaming Law: Cases and Materials (2008), Indian Gaming Law and Policy (2006), and Indian Gaming and Tribal Sovereignty: The Casino Compromise (2005), which was featured on C-SPAN's Book TV. Light and Rand have testified before the U.S. Senate Committee on Indian Affairs in Washington, D.C., presented in numerous scholarly, professional, and university settings, and served as consultants to corporate, tribal, state, and local officials. They are members of the International Masters of Gaming Law and serve on the Editorial Board of the Gaming Law Review and Economics. They are frequent commentators on tribal gaming in such media outlets as the New York Times, Boston Globe, and Bloomberg.